The World’s First Robotics Competition in Space

Zero Robotics

Zero Robotics is a computer programming competition for high school students where they learn how to control satellites aboard the International Space Station.

All you need to participate is a team, a mentor and access to the internet.

Finalists form alliances with other teams from across the world and go head-to-head in competition while astronauts aboard the ISS serve as referees live from space.

9/10/16 Kickoff Webcast Live from MIT
9/30/16 Last Day to Register and Submit
2D Practice Simulation Code
1/2017 Final Competition, Live on ISS!

SIGN UP TODAY!

astrocenter.tamu.edu/zerorobotics

Texas Zero Robotics is brought to you by:

ASTRO ENGINEERING EDUCATION OUTREACH

Zero Robotics is brought to you by the generous support from our sponsors: